

Seaside Ranchos

By BETTY LOU SPARRS

Seaside, don't miss the big general meeting tonight of the Seaside Homeowners Association. It's a "must" for all of us. The speaker is Lt. Commander Reaser, former electronics operations officer at the Bikini atom bomb tests. His subject will be "The Atomic Age," an illustrated lecture on the meaning in our life of the atom bomb. The time is 7:30 p.m. July 13, the place Seaside School Cafeteria.

Fourth of July found most Seaside at the winner roast on the proposed recreation area. A large turnout brought our goal of "$500 by Labor Day" to the 25 per cent mark. The summer is young yet, and social activities galore are planned, so let's keep up the enthusiasm.

Enjoying the balmy California weather this week were Mrs. Glen Sheedy and Miss Josephine Sheedy, mother and sister of Mrs. James Hall, Seaside Ranchos. They left the Eupora, Mississippi near last week for a two-week visit around Los Angeles and surrounding area.

From above the Mason Dixon line is Edmond Pickard, Taunton, Mass., who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Morris, Seaside Ranchos. He hopes to settle permanently in California.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Edmonds this week entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Poppen, Toledo, O. San Diego and Los Angeles vicinity are being visited.

A big Pan-American airliner sped Peter McLauren back to his home in Melbourne, Australia Saturday, after a three months visit with his son, Alan McLauren and wife Martha, Hollywood Riviera.

Renewing old friendships in Seaside Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. William Russell of Denver. Bill is on a five-year retirement from the U. S. Army and they hope to return here to live. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knouse entertained them Thursday evening with dinner and canasta.

Twenty-six miles of pine trees and white birch trees lining the north rim of the Grand Canyon still shares top billing in the memories of the Greenwoods' scenic motor trip through the southwest the latter part of June. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Greenwood, daughters Judy and Carolyn drove through and camped in various spots near Hoover Dam, Zion National Park, Bryce Canyon, Grand Canyon and Phoenix, Ariz.

Beverly Meese, Seaside Ranchos, is sunning and swimming this week at Laguna Beach with friends.

Jayne and Johnny Carlton this week left Mom and Dad to spend two weeks with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Giffalon, Visalia.

Roughing it during their vacation is a group of ten Senior Girl Scouts from the Ranchos. Accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. A. Arndt, Mrs. Neeley and Mrs. Heferin, they departed Thursday for a week of camping at Lake Arrowhead. Girls participating are Ellen Morris, Terry Rawleigh, Pat Merola, Barbara O'Hanlon, Martha Gruver, Mary Ellen Edmonds, Dale Denham and Donna Hatfield.

No vacation, though, for the stork, who July 5 delivered a baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Anderson, Hollywood Riviera. The youngster's name will be Eloise Carole.

Welcome is extended to our new neighbors on Reese road, Seaside Ranchos. They are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy and son Michael and daughter Rita. No real strangers to the South Bay area, Charles and Ellen Kennedy have lived both in Hermosa Beach and in Palo Verde. Mr. Kennedy works as a production planner at Air Research where Mrs. Kennedy also works as secretary. Rita and Michael are students at El Camino College.

A far cry from the old conception of the "3 R's" is our summer school at Seaside. To carry over the pleasant classroom atmosphere the first and second grades under the direction of Mrs. Theriault and Mrs. Shidler at their luncheon Friday in the airy patio of Mrs. Paul Roettger's home.

A huge birthday cake with removable cowboys held the attention of sixteen little neighborhood guests at Frank "Rocky" Jenkins fifth birthday party June 28. A different kind of party with a big chicken dinner and jello a libo of ice cream and all the trimmings will keep many of the small fry talking birthday for a long time to come.

Mrs. William Gravin of Seaside Heights and son Bill spent last week on a ranch in southern Nevada. Bill will spend the rest of the summer vacation there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hyder entertained newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Burns, Lomita, Saturday night, July 8 at a barbecue in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox, Hollywood Riviera, spent their vacation the last two weekends in June at the swank Desert Inn in Las Vegas. Sons David, Steven and Peter went too, and a lively time was had by all.
